

RICHARD C. LOCKE

Commissioner Locke was appointed to the Public Disclosure Commission by Governor Gary Locke on July 15, 2000.*

Mr. Locke is currently an independent consultant specializing in Internet start-up companies in Seattle and Eastern Washington. He was President and Chief Executive Officer of Vivid Learning Corporation, which developed "media rich" courseware on work place safety, certification and continuing education markets.

Mr. Locke was a candidate for the United States Congress from the Fourth District in 1996 and former President of Alligator Corporation, marketing wastewater treatment technology to industries worldwide.

He was Manager of Environmental Technologies for Battelle Pacific Northwest National Laboratories in Richland, Washington and former Vice-President for Government Information Systems for GTE Information Systems, Inc. in Tampa, Florida.

Mr. Locke wrote and produced an award winning film entitled the Last Farmer at the Pike Place Market while serving as Director of Housing Development for the Pike Place Market Development Authority and was Assistant Director of Skid Road Community Council, a community based organization designed to assist Seattle's homeless.

Mr. Locke graduated from the University of Washington with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Urban Planning and has a Masters degree in Public Administration from Harvard University.

TERM SUMMARY

CURRENT APPOINTMENT: July 15, 2000, by Governor Locke

SENATE CONFIRMATION: Pending

TERM ENDS: December 31, 2000

* Richard C. Locke is not related to Governor Gary Locke.